Describe an incident for which you feel grateful in your life

You should say:

a) what was it about ?

b) when did it happened ?

c) why did it happened ?

and explain the entire situatin

Answer:

- Happy moments become more meaningful when we can share something with others and make them happy as well.
- One should develop the habit of being thankful all the time and being grateful for everything that comes their way. Your gratitude should embrace anything because everything helps to advance the human condition.

And here I would like to talk about an incident for which i feel grateful in my life.

it was about assisting a family who had been hurt in a car accident that affected a young child and his family.

it happened about six months ago.

When I leave for work in the morning, I walk because there was no cars on the road. Suddenly, a truck goes and smashes with another vehicle. Because the small child in the car and his family members were seriously injured and there was no one else on the road to help them, I rushed forward to assist them, safely transporting them all to another car and also hauling them all to the nearby hospital, including the small child. Four members were injured; after about a week of treatment, they recovered, and everyone was overjoyed.But the best feeling for me was when the kid hugged me with such assurance as if I had accomplished something noteworthy in my life.That was the best feeling I have ever felt in my life.
